TROOPS NOT NEEDED, SAYS PITTSTON'S MAYOR

PITTSTON, Pa., Sept. 20

To the Editor of The Evening World: The great struggle between capital and labor which now engulfs this region and has stopped the exodus of thousands of tons of coal from this city daily has not only disturbed the entire world, but brought upon this city financial ruin on every hand.

The 8,000 miners of this district are all law-abiding citizens, and I believe will not submit to violence Under any circumstances the great crowd of 16,000 miners who took possession of this city on Tuesday demonstrated this fact beyond any possible doubt.

Troops, I believe, will be unnecessary in this region. If trouble arises it will not be the fault of the striking miners THOMAS J. CORCORAN.
